Attractions & Land Marks

Western Region, the gateway to Ghana from Côte d'Ivoire, presents a striking contrast between ancient and modern sites in the country.

-Fort Appolonia at Benyin

- Fort Metal Cross at Dixcove

-Nzulezo- the village on stilts:

An amazing village where life goes on in the centre of Lake Tadane, just 90km west of Takoradi. The houses are built on stilts, and traditional village life adapts to the watery conditions.

-Akatakya Crocodile Pond:

30km west of Takoradi, the local fetish priest entices the crocodiles from water with a live chicken. Remember to bring a bottle of Schnapps for the libation. Visitors are welcome every day except Wednesday, a sacred day.

Beaches: The Western Region has colorful beach communities which have been the main attraction for beach lovers and budget travelers for years.

Busua Beach Resort- Just 30 minutes drive from Takoradi is one such place. Busua has one of the world's cleanest beaches. About 25 minute walk west takes you to Dixcove, with a vibrant port and a renovated fort.

-Nini Suhien Natinal Park

-Ankasa Resource Reserve:

-Dr Nkrumah's Grave:

The original grave of Dr. Nkrumah, first President of Ghana and now buried in the Mausoleum in Accra, can be found at Nkroful, 83km west of Takoradi.

-The mines of Ghana:

The Western Region has several mines that may be visited, by prior arrangement. The main sites are: Nsuta Manganese Mine, Prestea Gold Mines and Tarkwa Gold mines.
